With the help of individuals, support groups and all those concerned, we hope to raise sufficient monies to be able to hire qualified people to manage and keep the libraries open for as many hours a week as possible. It has taken a great deal of expense and many years to accumulate, organize and continually update the vital resources, books, audio-visual equipment and films, periodicals, magazines, etc., the libraries are now fortunate enough to contain. Such valuable assets should be readily available to all students. But without trained individuals continuing to guide in their uses and manage and care for these materials, damage and irreplaceable loss would result. Without trained people now, Crawford-AuSable voters might find that when they are once again able to pay for the libraries, much would have to be rebuilt.

If you would like to help C.H.I.L.D., please contact the Crawford County Library or call 348-7337. Or make your tax deductable checks out to C.H.I.L.D. and mail to CC Library. 106 James, Grayling, Mich. 49738.

Plenty of Deer in Woods for Bow Hunters

A large herd of deer are waiting in Crawford County woods for bow hunters who haven't scored yet. Two easy winters in a row have increased deer numbers throughout the state as well as in the county.

Besides having a lot of targets, bow hunters will likely have bigger than normal targets to shoot at. Department of Natural Resources district wildlife officer Raymond Perez said the 1½ and 2½ year-old deer are in good shape and there will be a lot of 6 to 10 point racks on the bucks. Perez said the 11/2 to 21/2 year-olds make up about 70 percent of the deer killed by hunters.

A lot of bow hunters have been reported in Crawford County woods but there is no indication yet as to the number of deer being brought in. Hunters were greeted with a dismal opening day October 1. High winds and cold temperatures prevailed for the opening day and the next two days were damp and cold.

Road Crew Lay-Offs Will Slow County Snow Plowing

103rd YEAR * * * NO. 41--PHONE 348-6811

By Jon Thompson

The loss of ten Crawford County Road Commission workers will be felt by many county residents this winter after the white flakes fall.

Snowplowing - the most visible service of the road commission - will be slowed down this year due to the lay off of eight workers, seven last February and one last June, and the loss of two positions vacated by disabled workers and not replaced.

At the beginning of last winter, the road commission had a work force of 35 fulltime persons and usually put 18 trucks on the road every morning plowing was required. This year, they will go to battle against the white stuff with 25 full-time workers and 15 trucks.

Additionally, the drop in revenues that forced the layoffs also restricts the time road crews will spend plowing roads. In previous years, road crews worked overtime to clear roads after a bad storm. This year, they will try to handle the plowing from 7 to 3:30 p.m. Monday to Friday to avoid overtime.

What this means to county residents is a longer wait for some county roads to be plowed.

"We will still be plowing all the same roads we have in the past," Road Commission Manager John Keir said. "It just might take longer this year.''

Keir said he doesn't expect any problems after most snowfalls. But after the first big-snow storm of 8-12 inches, he said there will probably be a few persons

With the reduced crews and no overtime, Keir said it will take crews one and a half to two days just to open county roads. Another two days will be spent on shoulder work and other clean-up. If a bad blizzard struck, Keir said some workers might work overtime on county roads.

The state highways in the county will receive different treatment than the county roads. Because the state pays for the service, the county road commission will maintain I-75 and U.S. 27 24hours, seven days a week. State trunklines M-72 and M-93 will also receive extra at- Saturday, October 17th from

Senior Power Day Oct. 9

U.S. Senator Don Riegle and other National and State Leaders will be present for Senior Power Day in Northern Michigan, to be held on Friday, October 9, 1981, at 10:30 a.m., at the Kirtland Community Auditorium. Box lunches will be served; entertainment will be supplied. Lora Gould, from the Senior Citizens Center, will have a bus leaving at 9:30 a.m. from the Senior Citizens Center, to attend same. Dial-A-Ride will be available to catch a ride to the Center for those who cannot drive. Just give them

County roads are on a priority list. Primary roads such as County Road 612, Old-27, and North Down River Road get first service. If snowstorms hit two or three days in a row, road crews will go back to cleaning the primary roads first even if a less traveled road hasn't been plowed after the first storm yet.

Besides plowing, the road commission also has to cut back on the amount of salt it puts on icy roads. In previous years, 1,000 tons of salt has been used during a winter. This year, only 500 tons will be available.

road commission revenues hope we get just enough dropping $80,000 in 1981. For 1982, Keir expects another drop of about five percent in need."

Revenues decline but gasoline, oil, equipment repair and purchase costs climb. The road commission has no money for buying new equipment this year and Keir doesn't expect any money for new equipment next year.

"We're close to that point where any more cuts are going to seriously affect our services," Keir said.

Meanwhile, this winter Keir is hoping for good weather.

"I figure we'll have to start plowing snow in the middle of November, but I The cutbacks are a result of hope I'm wrong," he said. "I snowfall to have snow-fun but not any more than we

Northern Michigan residents will have an opportunity to pick up Christmas gifts and other unique items at a good price during a Silent Auction being held 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. in the Grayling Mini-Mall. All proceeds from the sales will be donated to the Crawford County Library.

Items up for sale will be placed on a table in the center of the mall with a sheet of paper set next to each article. Should you decide to bid on an item, all you have to do is write your name down and increase the last bid by at least .25. Whoever is lucky enough to have the last bid at 5:00 p.m. when the bidding ends will have won that item.

In addition to the silent auction, there will also be an arts, crafts and baked goods sale going on throughout the day. If you have any homemade items to sell, this is your opportunity to do so. For additional information, please call 348-7337.

The first annual fund drive will receive monies this hundreds of Crawford Co. who annually citizens receive assistance from national and state agencies such as the Kidney Foundation, Multiple Sclerosis Society and many others.

> Although no goal has been set for this first year's drive, Mrs. Hall feels the initial funds raised are very important. "This is a building year for United Way in this county, a year in which succeeding years will be compared," she stated. She went on to say how important it is to gain local support for our own charitable agencies. Prior to the formation of United Way, agencies within the county depended on support from outside sources or local fund raising efforts. Once we establish ourselves and begin raising enough money locally some of the financial burden will be removed and those agencies concentrate providing their degisnated services.

> Many local volunteers are now working very hard to make this first drive a success. Business and industry are currently being contacted not only for their own donation but also that of their employees via payroll deduction or one time contribution.

> Support from the community is of the utmost importance. Mrs. Hall states "United Way works for all of us as long as all of us work." Perhaps a new national slogan might read "Thanks To Us It Works For All Of Us." The United Way.

You Should Read This!

By Harrison Goodhue for American Red Cross

Last week we reminded you that October is here again and it is the time to raise money for American Red Cross so the vital humanitarian services that Red Cross, and only Red Cross, renders the citizens of Crawford County will continue unabated.

We justified the headline by promising convincing evidence that Red Cross does deserve your financial support! And, further, we promised to produce such evidence this week by explaining Red Cross

Service to Military Families and Veterans. As we stated before, the primary objective, or responsibility, mandated in the American Red Cross Charter which was passed into Law by the Congress of the U.S. at the turn of the Century, was to render assistance, as needed, to the members of the Armed Forces of this Nation, their Families, and Veterans of such Armed Forces.

American Red Cross has been accomplishing this objective for a hundred years now, but probably the best evidence of its success is a record of what SMF&V offers the members of the Armed Forces, their Families, and Veterans, now, in times of Peace.

First, and foremost, American Red Cross maintains an amazingly effective worldwide communication system between Servicemen and Servicewomen of the U.S. and their immediate families. The system involves two phases and is available to both the Service people in the Armed Services and their Families at See "Red Cross" on P. 8

A similar unit to the one planned for Alpena is scheduled to be in-service at Gaylord possibly as early as 1984, Kowalski said.

Radio transmission systems for handling both local and long distance service in the division will utilize both lines and cables and line-ofsight radio transmission. To accommodate the latter, General Telephone will constuct 14 towers in both Lower and Upper Peninsula exchanges including: Atlanta, Cedarville, Gaylord, Grayling, Hillman, Houghton Lake, Lachine, common.

Lewiston, Pickford and Ros-

General Telephone's $19.6 million service improvement and expansion program for the Northern division in 1982 amounts to an average investment of $291 per customer, Kowalski said. The company now has an investment of more than $105 million in land, buildings and equipment in the Northern division, or an average of about $1,550 for each of the 67,500 customers.

From Our Corner ...

What a beautiful Monday morning...ekk, if the sun doesn't start shining pretty soon we might as well kiss autumn goodbye and start getting ready for old man winter...here we thought September and October were supposedly the two beautiful months in the year for northern Michigan...not so, so far...the man upstairs hasn't been listening to us lately...

We attended the Congressman Robert Davis' breakfast-meeting last Saturday at the Chief Shoppenagons Hotel along with some 15 other citizens from the area...topics from social security to our defense program was brought up, but it seemed most of the time was spent on social security and those who are getting it are really taxed with the inflation what it is...one thing we were happy to hear was when Davis told a person they didn't have to worry that one day social security would be abolished, we are creeping toward that time our-

On the defense budget, Davis stated he felt some could be trimmed slightly more than the Administration's $13 billion figure over the next three year's, and felt that money could be used to help other agencies that are also going to feel budget

Davis said, there were many of the projects he was not certain at this time how he would vote, and stated I am not a rubber stamp, and that he would tackle the subject when it came up with an open mind...Davis said he supported the Administrations defense system with the MX, the building of the B-1 bomber, and the building of more Trident submarines, to protect the western hemisphere from possible attack...

We go along with Congressman Davis in his thinking, especially on the defense program, anything we can do to deter another war is well worth it...

From the Las Vegas Sun...You know you're in trouble when...your wife wraps your lunch in a road map...

National Fire Protection Week is set for October 5-11 this year and as always one of the more significant weeks set aside to observe...everyone should be conscience of the devastating effect that fire brings, and they should also practice every day preventions of fires...

Most of last year's 11,600 deaths, 300,000 serious injuries and $3.2 billion in property damage due to fire were unnecessary...mark this week, Fire Prevention Week, by checking your home and business for fire hazards and immediately removing or correcting any that you may find...

Persons who are installing or have already installed wood stoves should carefully check them and their chimney to make sure of any over heating...many of the fires during this time of year are due to wood stoves according to authorities...the old saying applys, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure...

We were pleasantly surprised Sunday when T.J., and Stef were accompanied by their folks arrived to spend the day...it helped take care of the dark and dreary day that hung over Grayling...

For our readers who do not reside here, we started this corner Monday morning and complained of the dreary day, we wish to let you know, the sun came out in the afternoon for a couple hours...it seems like it is trying to do what the ground hog does in February...anyway it did warm up a bit...

Time to close this turkey for this week...so we'll say goodnight to T.J., Stef and Amber and to everyone have a nice weekend, think autumn days...

Can Religious Man's Sin Bring Guilt? Romans 3:5-9

When religious man does wrong or unrightousness, doesn't this contrast God's righteousness and make God look better? Therefore how can God punish that person who does wrong when it ultimately makes God look more righteous? "But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man)." Verse 5.

The answer comes back very clear: "God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?" Verse 6. The God of perfect righteousness must judge all sin justly. Nothing can altar God's justice. No person can expect favors from God. God will always do right in judgment both now and in eternity.

Should God judge man for lying when his lies contrast the truth of God and bring more glory to God? "For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?' Verse 7.

"Our claims șervice is fast, fair and nationwide?

"We represent Auto-Owners because of the fast, efficient service they give our customers.

"A lot of people are surprised to find our claims people bring their checkbooks with them . so they can pay a claim right on the spot.'

Should God judge man for evil when man's evil contracts God's goodness and brings Glory to God? "And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) Let us do evil, that good may come?" Verse 8. Not only is this the question raised by the religious man, but this was the false charge brought against Bible believing Christians. Those who believe in eternal salvation or eternal security have always been accused of promoting the practice of sin. The answer is clear: "...whose damnation is just." Verse 8b. People who practice sin wilfully and continuously face a just damnation before a holy and righteous God of justice.

The conclusion puts all sinners on the same level if they be pagan, moral or religious: "What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin." Verse 9. It does not matter how religious a man may be, he cannot hide his sin any better from God than anyone else. Yes, all good and evil will bring ultimate glory to God, but that does not relieve man of personal guilt and punishment. (adv.) Pastor Barnett easily store for four to five months.

Acorn squash are the shortest lived of the winter squash. They require slightly different treatment than the others, too. Acorn squash should not be cured because high temperatures will cause them to turn orange and become stringy. They should be stored at 55 degrees F. At temperatures above 55 degrees, they tend to dry out, turn orange and become stringy.

Pumpkins should keep two to three months under the same storage conditions required for winter squash.

Defense Not Enough For Viking Girls

By Jon Thompson

The Viking's defense quick and aggressive - is wrecking other teams' offenses. But the Viking offense is in need of a little repair itself.

The Viking girls came up with 25 steals against Boyne City last Thursday but only shot 20 percent (18-80) from the floor and lost 59-41. Against Petoskey last Tuesday, the girls stopped the taller visiting team from scoring a lot but only shot 23 percent from the floor to lose 60-47.

"It's frustrating," varsity coach Marilee Cheney said. "We're playing excellent defense, we're getting the steals and making our fast break go, but the shots aren't falling in our bucket.

"Against Boyne City we had a lot of three-on-two fast breaks and we had over 30 shots within the key."

Dianne Lee led the Vikings with 14 points and 8 steals against Petoskey. Shelly Trenary had 9 points. Jean Stevens had 8 points and 11 rebounds, and Heidi Bendig had 6 points and 6 rebounds.

Against Boyne, eight Vikings scored with no player reaching double figures. Wendy Savallisch scored 7 points and helped lead the Vikings defensively.

The junior varsity won both of their games last week to move their record to Against Petoskey, Stacey Wolcott played an outstanding game scoring 24 points and pulling in 13 rebounds. Karen Reynolds added 12 points, Lisa Solomonson had 6 points, and Kris Laudenslager had 6 rebounds, 3 steals, and played a good defensive game.

Against Boyne City, Teresa Barber led the way with 10 points and 20 rebounds. Erin Jones had 8 points, Kris Laudenslager had 6 points and 8 rebounds, and all 19 players got into the game.

"Red Cross" -

For example, a spouse, child or parent of an individual in Service becomes critically ill. All the Family member need do to notify the Service person, is to phone the nearest Red Cross Chapter, provide the Chapter with the name, rank, serial number, and APO number of the Service person, and that Chapter will send such emergency message to the Service person at once, whether the location is in the domestic U.S., Overseas, or on a Ship at Sea.

If the Service person is at a Base in the U.S. the Chapter telephones the message immediately, at the Chapter's expense, to the Field Service Director of the SMF&V Worker at the Military base.

If the message involves a request for the Service person to be sent home because of a critical health situation, the local Red Cross Chapter verifies the degree of criticalness by contacting the Doctor in charge of the patient. If the Doctor concurs that the patients life is endangered, the Red Cross SMF&V Worker will incorporate this information in the message and the Military Commanders of the U.S. Armed Forces accepts such monitored information by a local Red Cross Chapter and the Service person is extended the maximum consideration possible under the Field circumstances to be furloughed home for the emergency.

If an actual death is involved, the local Red Cross Chapter verifies the death and the relationship of the Service person to the deceased and so reports in the message to the Military Command; and, again, the Chapter's information is accepted as factual and the Armed Services extend maximum consideration for immediate leave to come

If the Service person is based outside the domestic U.S. at an Overseas Base or on a Ship at Sea, the message is phoned to AMCROSS Head quarters in Washington DC by local Chapter. In almost every instance, within two hours of receipt of a message at AM-CROSS Headquarters, the message is in the hands of the Red Cross Field Service Director at the Overseas base or has been delivered to the Captain or Chief Executive Officer of the Ship at Sea.

This communication system is provided free to the members of the Armed Forces of the U.S., their Families and Veterans at an annual cost of millions of dollars as one part of American Red Cross commitment to fulfill its mandate to serve the U.S. Service people.

Money is transmitted between Service people and their Families through this communication system. If the folks at home want to send money to their family members in the Armed Forces, or vice versa, the sendor takes the money to the nearest Red Cross Chapter with the proper identification and address of the "sendee", and within a couple of hours the money is delivered to the sendee at his or her overseas base. The Overseas base Field Service Director sends a receipt signed by the sendee to the local Chapter, who, thereupon, sends a reimbursing check to the Overseas Field Director, and the transfer of funds is completed.

Every type of human relations problem comes up in SMF&V work. Allotment checks fail to arrive; a child becomes ill; a wife is hospitalized; an automobile accident; the whole gamut of human emergencies which become vital to the Service person and his or her family are the standard daily fare of Volunteer SMF&V Workers and the paid professional Red Cross Staff Per-

Sometimes the calls are heart wringing!

The telephone rings at 2AM. and when you finally get the receiver to your ear, you hear a small frightened voice asking: "Is this Red Cross in Grayling!" And, upon confirmation, a flood of words tumbles out. She has to talk to her husband who is at Camp Graying with the National Guard. She is six months pregnant and she has no friends or relatives in the small Indiana town they moved to a few months ago. She slipped and fell at her home about 9 p.m. and when she finally got her Doctor he told her to go to the Hospital and he would arrange for her to stay overnight and he would see her in the morning.

But she is scared, and she can't sleep, and she's standing out in the hall at the public telephone in her nightgown and bare feet, and she is shaking so with cold and fright you can hardly understand her. Her husband gave her this phone number and said if she needed him to call and they would get a message to him at the Camp.

She is only 19 and this is their first baby, and please, oh, please, 1 am so afraid! But she does have her husband's serial number and the name of his outfit, so you tell her to hurry back in, get into bed and pull up the covers and get warm. You'll get the message to her husband and she should hear from him within an hour or so, and you tell her if she hurts anywhere to insist the Nurse call her Doctor and tell

It isn't easy to find an individual soldier in Camp Grayling at 2 in the morning, even if you have his name, serial number and outfit designation; but, it can be done. When we finally get a Sergeant on the phone, a night duty officer, you hit pay dirt! He knows the guy, sure, he'll get the skinny little runt out of bed and on the telephone in five minutes, what's the number of that Hospital again?

So you roll over and go back to sleep; with a clear conscious; with a smile on your face because you are one up on tomorrow: You have already done your good deed for the day!

SMF&V, however, is much more than a communication service in emergencies. Red Cross is the Serviceman and Servicewoman's friend. They are on "their" side when they have problems, both while they are in the Service and after they are discharged upon completion of their enlistments.

Veterans benefits are many and complex. Fair administration of such benefits is a difficult problem for the Military. The benefits range from College education financial assistance, to medical care in Veterans Hospitals and to permanent or tempoary pension benefits for injuries or illnesses related to Military Service. The documentation of such applications for benefits and for reclassification of other than Honorable Discharges is complicated and detailed. Presentation of such claims and supporting evidence to Military Appeal Boards at their various levels is frequently beyond the competency of the Service person. American Red Cross.

SMF&V through itsoperations, is ready to assist any Service person or Veteran in such appeals. The proof of their effectiveness on behalf of Servicemen and vicewomen can best be established by the announcement at the Centennial Convention of American Red Cross held in Washington DC May 17th through May 21st of this year, that the ADDITIONAL benefits obtained for Service Veterans through the help and assistance of Red Cross SMF&V Workers and Staff for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1981 would exceed $200 millions of dollars. Virtually 95% of the SMF&V work performed in the domestic U.S. at the approximately 3200 Red Cross Chapters is done by Volunteer Workers. Over half of the SMF&V work performed at Military Bases in the domestic U.S. is accomplished by Volunteer Workers. About 90% of the SMF&V Work at Overseas Bases is done by paid Red Cross Staff, the balance by Volunteer Military wives who have joined their husbands and parents at Overseas locations.

Surely, these facts must convince you that American Red Cross wholly fulfills their SMF&V responsibilities in every respect!

Surely, if you were in Military Service, or had a child or spouse in Military Service, you would want American Red Cross and its SMF&V Workers on your side!

Don't you really think American Red Cross deserves your financial support?

And, if you aren't supporting Red Cross financially now, don't you think you ought to send them something? Even if it is only a buck!

If you didn't get a letter from Crawford County Chapter/American Red Cross pleading for a contribution, send a $1, it will make you a Member of American Red Cross, and we will be grateful to you as a Good Neighbor! If you didn't get a letter with a self addressed envelope, send a contribution anyway to Crawford County Chapter/ American Red Cross, RR 2, Box 2515, Grayling 49738 and join Red Cross!

If you are still not convinced Red Cross deserves your financial support, stick with Charging that the legislature is moving toward developing a compromise that will allow for higher interest rates on consumer loans, Rep. H. Lynn Jondahl (D-East Lansing) has called for individuals and consumers to mount a "forceful lobby" to stop the move.

He said so far consumers have not been an effective voice in the legislative debates on increasing the interest rate ceiling.

People apparently think the debate on interest rates simply takes place on the federal level and do not realize the pressure being levied by the credit industry lobbyists, Jondahl said.

Legislators will probably not find it politically attractive to take off all limits on interest rates, he said, but may tie the limits to a floating level such as the interest rates on sixmonth treasury bills.

If such a level results in interest rates on most consumer loans of 20 to 22 percent, that is "not reasonable," he declared.

State law now sets fixed interest rate ceilings at a variety of levels.

Rep. Patrick Harrington (D-Monroe), chairman of a special house subcommittee on interest rates, said committee members will likely approve a compromise tying limits to the treasury note rates, but no decision has been made on how much higher than the treasury notes interest rates could go.

Governor William G. Milliken, meanwhile, indicated he was opposed to lifting all caps on interest rates, but said he may support some sort of floating interest rate limit.

Increasing interest rates will not help Michigan's economy, Jondahl said, because they discourage people from purchasing major items such as houses and cars - both vital to the state economy.

"No one is calling up or writing to say: 'I want to buy a house but the mortgage rate is too low'," Jondahl

Now

He noted a study of Arkansas consumers by Purdue University which showed that credit is highly available there. Arkansas has a limit of 10 percent interest on consumer

That disputes, he said, credit industry officials who argue that only by raising the interest rates will credit become available.

LEAST VIOLENT INMATES RELEASED FIRST

A study on the state's halfway house system and the Department of Corrections violent risk predictions indicates the state is doing a good job in releasing the least dangerous offenders back into society.

Corrections Director Perry Johnson said according to the research, which is still ongoing, persons given special paroles or paroled on their minimum sentences are less likely to commit a violent felony than those paroled after serving their minimum

Some 13 percent of those paroled after serving their minimum sentences were convicted of a violent crime within one year after their releases, whereas only two percent of those who were paroled through halfway houses were convicted of a felony.

"This state has successfully developed and uses the tools to make reasonably accurate decisions about an offender's risk to the community. I consider development of these prediction techniques the most significant accomplishment of this department during my time nine years as director," Johnson

The study was based on some 1,100 people released in 1978 and Johnson said the state's ability to keep violent criminals in prisons, while allowing the least violent to go through halfway houses, has saved the state taxpayers "the cost of about four prisons".

Discover Stamp Collecting

"Discover Stamp Collecting - The Hobby of a Lifetime," is the theme of the first annual National Stamp Collecting Month, to be observed October 1-31, 1981, Postmaster James Baker, of Grayling, said today.

"The fall observance will include issuance of a special sourvenir card, unusual post office lobby displays and philatelic items especially designed to attract newcomers to the hobby," Postmaster Baker continued.

"Millions of Americans recognize that stamp collecting generates increased knowledge of geography, biography, history and science. Children who engage in this hobby have a good time acquiring new or used stamps, and the hobby stimulates their intellectual growth. Teachers tell us that boys and girls frequently use their stamp collecting information in preparing and presenting class projects."

The Postal Service is sponsoring the month-long observance in cooperation with the Council of Philatelic Organization (COPO) which includes national, regional and local organizations involved in all aspects of stamp collecting.

"An adult who introduces a youngster to the hobby is giving that child a lifetime gift, "Postmaster Baker said, "because stamp collecting does not depend on age, stamina or the weather."

"Many families treasure stamp collections, work on them together, and pass them along from generation to generation. In an age when all too many of us spend our leisure time solely as spectators, stamp collecting is a hobby in which everyone can participate, That's the message the Postal Service wants to get across next October during National Stamp Collecting Month," Postmaster Baker concluded.

Oct. 2, 1981

Dear Whitey, As you know, the week of Oct. 5-11 is National Fire Prevention Week. If you ask a fireman the three principal causes of fire and he'll tell you -

Men, women and children. What does that mean? It means the majority of fires in this country are easily preventable. Most of last year's 11,600 deaths, 300,000 serious injuries, and $3.2 billion in property damage due to fire were unnecessary.

But everyone knows fire only happens to the other guy. Only when it touches one's own family or nextdoor neighbor does the possibility of fire become the threat of fire. And some people never change their blase attitude - until it's too

What can you do? Mark this week. Fire Prevention Week, by checking your home for fire hazards and immediately removing or correcting any that you find.

Have your family practice a home fire drill, to be sure that each member would be able to escape from his own bedroom if there were a fire at night. (eighty percent of America's multiple-death fires happen at night.) Remember that the principal exit may be blocked by smoke or flames, so a secondary escape route is vital.

For those with children in third grade, cooperate with them and encourage them as they participate in the Junior Fire Marshall program. Being conducted this week in schools across the nation and sponsored locally by Independent Insurance Agents of Northern Michigan.

JFM teaches children how to prevent fire and what to do if fire breaks out. Lasting success, however, must depend on the active support and involvement of the entire community. Perhaps the lesson to be learned this week is that fire prevention is a year-round responsibility for all of us.

> Sincerely, George L. Stancil Independent Ins. Agents of N. Michigan

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter

Last week I made reference to vandalism to the Whispering Pines Pathway, which is one of the few foot trails in Northern Michigan designed for the enjoyment of those with vision problems. On the last day of August, I inventoried reported damage to the large print and braille labels. Intentional damage and time required the replacement of all twenty labels. Most of those labels are as long as the above paragraph; thus, it took longer to set the type on the line-oscribe machine than it did to run off the few copies needed for immediate and future use. Then it was necessary to wait for the ink to dry thoroughtly before the labels could be waterproofed. Before I was finished, more than half of the protective plexiglass covers over the paper labels had to be replaced, because sometime in the last three weeks four more were smashed into pieces and others were craked to a point where they were no longer protective.

Like others on the Park staff, I do not object to doing by Janet Petrosky the work necessary to repair such damage, but I detest the waste of your money to replace materials not damaged by weather. Given any choice at all, we would rather make improvements which would make your visit to the Tall Timber more enjoyable.

The Crucial Alternatives

Morals, Ethics and A Free Society

The freedom we enjoy as American Citizens is a precious heritage. It has been purchased at great cost of human life and material resources, sustained and buttressed by thousands of concerned citizens. Today that freedom is threatened by many forces. Widespread disregard and preoccupations with money making frivoloties are undermining the fundamental foundations of our free society. Unless we are able to awaken people to the dangers we confront our freedom will go down the

The Father's of our Republic knew that a free society could not endure without a firm undergirding of education with moral and ethical principles. Education is important as we all know in overcoming ignorance, as a means of keeping informed concerning movements and influences in our country. It is useful in forming opinion, and as a means of communication. But education that is not tampered with wisdom and diciplined by moral and ethical principles may become a menace to freedom. It must be a guided freedom always conscious of other people's rights and respectful of other people's opinions.

Life in a Republic such as ours is very much a matter of community relationship and communication in matters of government local, state and federal. That calls for moral and ethical insight and responsibility. Without morals and ethics we have no basis for trust in our fellowmen nor in the social and political structures we create. When they are lacking people become disillusioned with government.

Sad to say, but today, we are witnessing an undermining of morals and ethics in our community and corporate relationships. It is producing a shallow with relativism widespread area of grey between what is right and wrong, with the result that people find easy justification for their evil behavior.

We live in a world of cause and effect, of action and consequences; sure as the sun rises and sets a free republic such as ours will reap the result of lax morals and ethical principles. In fact we are already reaping the results of our laxness. One need only read the daily news or view television to be aware of that reality. We are spending millions on defense while at the same time we are permitting evil forces to undermine and annul the principles that undergird and sustain our freedom.

Apathy, indifference, complacency, and preoccupations are sapping the vitality of our free Republic. They are a greater menace to our wellbeing than any outward force. Time is here when concerned people must become aware of these subtle forces that are eating away the foundations of freedom. A long time ago back in the eighth Century a wise man asked: "When the pillars of State are falling what can a good man do?" Each citizen should remember that a nation is composed of ones. What each one of us is in character and outlook helps to determine the character of the nation. The choices we make, the attitudes we support the character we achieve determines what the nation becomes. In a free republic such as ours the final words are spoken by we the People.

Township of Lovells Ordinance No. 9/8/81

An ordinance to provide for control of installation procedures for mobile homes within the Township of Lovells and to repeal any ordinance or parts of Township ordinances in conflict herewith.

Section I · Name

This ordinance shall be known and cited as the Lovells Township Mobile Home Ordinance. Section II - Purpose

The purpose of this ordinance is to establish minimum standards for the installation of mobile homes within the Township iurisdiction. Standards which exceed these minimums may be utilized at the discretion of the individual mobile home owner. Section III - Definitions

(a) "Anchoring equipment" means straps, cables, turnbuckles, chains, including tension devices, or other securing devices which are used with ties to secure a mobile home to ground anchors. (b) "Anchoring system" means a combination of ties, anchoring equipment and ground anchors, that will, when properly installed, resist movement of an implaced mobile home caused by wind forces.

(c) "Cap" means a solid concrete block, solid wood block, or solid steel plate which is placed on top of the pillar covering the width and length of the pillar.

(d) "Foundation" means the base upon which a mobile home (e) "Ground Anchor" means any devise designed to transfer the mobile home anchoring lead to the ground. (f) "Installation" means the process of mounting the mobile home on a foundation. It includes the initial acts of jacking up the mobile home, leveling and connecting utilities and the attachments of skirting, expandos, cabanas, carports, any device relating to barrier free design and other fixtures to the mobile home pursuant to a signed work order. (g) "Pillar" means the portion of the mobile home support system between the platform and the mobile home frame, exclusive of caps and shims (h) "Platform" means a 16 inch by 16 inch by 4 inch solid concrete block that is placed directly on the ground and serves as the foundation of a pillar. As an alternative, 28 inch by 16 inch by 4 inch solid concrete blocks may be used as platforms if the joint between the blocks is parallel to the steel I beam frame.

(i) "Shim" means a wooden wedge with a 1 inch maximum thickness and not less than 4 inches wide and 6 inches long which, when driven in tightly in pairs between the cap and the mobile home frame, acts as a lending and stabilizing device.

(j) "Tie" means straps, cables, or a securing device used to connect a mobile home to ground anchors.

Section IV Installation

(a) Pillars shall be installed directly under each main frame beam. If the distance between the main frame beams does not conform to the pad or pillars that are permanently installed on the mobile home site, cross beams shall be used. These cross beams may be of steel, or pressure-treated wood which resists decay, and has an imposed load capacity of 3,000 pounds per square foot (PSF). The cross beams shall extend a minimum of 6 inches beyond each main frame beam, but shall not extend beyond the sides of the mobile home. A wood beam shall not rest on the ground but shall rest on the cap. If the cross beam interferes with a utility to the mobile home, the cross beam placement may be between blocks. If a cross beam is used between blocks, it shall be a minimum of 6 inches by 8 inches.

(b) Pillars shall be placed on 10 foot centers along the length of each main frame beam, but may be placed at less than 10 feet centers. If the pillars interfere with the axle area, they may be placed to a maximum of 13 feet centers, but the pillar placement shall not be less in number than if placed on 10 foot centers.

(c) The pillars nearest each end of the mobile home shall be within 3 feet of either end. (d) All grass and organic material shall be removed and the pillar or platform shall be placed on stable ground. (e) Pillars shall be constructed of solid concrete, core concrete blocks unless other cored concrete blocks are supplied by the consumer, or a heavy metal screw column which bears on both frame and foundation or other acceptable design and construction meeting mobile home industry standards. (f) Concrete block pillars shall be constructed of regular 8 inch by 8 inch by 16 inch blocks and placed on the pillar platform. The blocks shall be placed with the open cells vertical and the blocking of the pillar shall be single tiered. A cap shall be placed on top of the pillar. A wood plate 1 inch by 8 inches by 16 inches or 2 inches by 8 inches by 16 inches may be placed on top of the cap for leveling. Shims may be fitted and driven tight between the wood plate or cap and the mainframe and shall not take up more than 1 inch of vertical height.

(g) Pillars shall be installed perpendicular to the main frame of the mobile home. (h) Solid concrete pillars may be of cone or pyramid design with a minimum 16 inch base tapered to a minimum 9 inch top. Shimming shall be the same as for the concrete block pillar.

(i) All pillars shall have a minimum imposed load capacity of 3,000 pounds. (j) If the manufacturers recommend installation specifications exceed the minimum specifications stated in these rules, the manufacturer's specifications shall in all cases be complied

(k) Mobile homes may be installed on a basement, slab or crawl space-type foundation, provided the foundation complies with local building codes and ordinances, and meets the manufacturer's specifications for pillar placement and imposed load

Special V - Installation, systems compatibility.

All components used in the installation of a mobile home, such as platforms and pillars, shall be uniform in construction and shall be compatible with any existing system that may be installed on the mobile home site.

Section VI - Utility hookups All utility hookups to a mobile home shall be in compliance with the following minimum standards: (a) Water. Each mobile home shall be connected to the service outlet by semi-ridged tubing, such as copper tubing or approved plastic piping. The minimum size shall be 1/2 inch inside diameter or 5/8 inch outside diameter. An easily accessible handmanipulated shutoff valve shall be installed on the water supply inlet to the mobile home. A water supply protection device, such as a heat tape, UL or similarly listed, shall be installed at the time the mobile home is installed on site to prevent the freezing or service lines, valves, and riser pipes. The starting point of the protection device, excluding the plug-in cord, shall be attached 1 inch beyond the underside and shall completely cover the full length of the piping to include the water service riser. The riser shall be insulated and covered to prevent loss of heat. The wraping or spiralling of the protection device shall comply with the manufacturer's specification. If an extension cord is used, it shall be UL or similarly listed and shall be approved for exterior

(b) Mobile home fuel supply systems shall be as follows: (i) Furnaces, hot water heaters, appliances, or any item of equipment which uses gas shall be fully compatible with the type of gas used. An easily accessible, approved hand shutoff valve controlling the flow of gas to the entire gas piping system shall be installed as close as possible to the service meter or supply connection of the liquified petroleum gas container. Approved piping with a minimum 1/2 inch inside diameter or 5/8 inch outside diameter shall be used for any gas line. After appliances are connected, the piping system shall be tested to not less than 10 inches nor more than 14 inches of water column (1/2 PSJ), and the appliance connections shall be tested for leakage with soapy vater or bubble solution (ii) A mobile home fuel supply system other than gas shall comply with state and local codes and ordinances, but at a minimum, shall comply with the standards contained in paragraph 4.3.1 to 4.3.4, national fire protection association number

(c) Sewer. At a minimum, schedule 30 plastic pipe with a minimum 3 inch diameter shall be used from the mobile home outlet to the site sewer service line. The sewer line shall be supported at not less than 4 foot intervals. Plumber's strapping shall be used for support where possible. All joints shall be sealed to preclude leaks. There shall be an approved seal at the sewer riser. All plumbing shall be installed pursuant to local

(d) The electrical supply line from the service line to the mobile home shall be completed in a safe and workmanlike manner. Where a permanent feeder is used, installation shall be inspected by a State or Local Electrical Inspector before being put

Section VII - Skirting is considered to be an integral part of the mobile home and therefore must be installed coincidentally with the installation process. (1) Mobile home skirting shall be vented. Louvered or similar vents shall be at a minimum of 600 square inches per 1000 square feet of living space. A minimum of 1 vent shall be placed at the front and rear of the mobile home and 2 to each exposed side. An access panel of sufficient size to allow full access to Cutility hook ups located beneath the mobile home shall be installed. All skirting shall be manufactured of fire-resistant material and certified as such by the manufacturer.

(2) Skirting shall be installed in a manner so as to resist damage under normal weather conditions to include, but not limited to, damage caused by freezing and frost, wind, snow, and

Section VIII - Anchorage and tie-down.

Every parking space for mobile units shall be provided with devices for anchoring the unit to prevent overturning or uplift. The owner of the parking space shall anchor or cause to be anchored all mobile units located on the parking space. Where concrete platforms are provided for the parking of the units, anchorage may be by eyelets inbedded in the concrete with adequate anchor plates or hooks; or other suitable means. The anchorage shall be adequate to withstand wind forces and uplift as required in Article 7 for buildings and structures, based upon the size and weight of the units.

Section IX - Safety (1) Each mobile home must be equipped with at least one (1) fire extinguisher with a minimum 2A-10-B-C rating and approved by a nationally recognized independent test laboratory. It shall also be equipped with at least one (1) smoke detector approved by a nationally approved independent testing laboratory. Section X - General Information

(1) Prior to installation, the home owner shall obtain zoning and building permits as required by the Lovells Township Zoning Ordinance and the State Construction code adopted by this jurisdiction. Sanitary, well, plumbing, and electrical permits are as required by the District Health Department and other State agencies.

Section XL - Saving Clause

(1) The provisions of this ordinance are hereby declared to be severable and if any clause, sentence, word, section or provision is declared void or unenforceable, for any reason, by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining portions of said ordinance shall remain in force.

This Ordinance duly adopted on September 8, 1981, at a regular meeting of the Lovells Township Board and is given immediate effect.

Persons."

Tuesday, September 29:

This year's Awareness Week, (October 11-17) takes added significance because 1981 has been ofstand trial on ficially designated by the United Nations as "The International Year of Disabled requested a trial by jury. In his proclamation for this special year in the United States President Reagan said, "all of us stand to gain when those who are disabled share in America's Opportunities." one year.

The Easter Seal Society, which has sponsored Awareness Week since 1975, reminds us that while considerable progress has been made in legislating equal accessibility for disabled people, the attitudes of other people can be their biggest handicap.

Given our backgrounds and our society, it's almost predictable that most of us would not feel totally open and free in our attitudes toward the disabled. But that's not to say we can't change.

The key to better understanding and acceptance of disabled persons is to recognize that they have the same needs, rights, hopes and aspirations as the rest of us. It means they are exactly like everyone else in most ways. And that includes an equal shot at full participation in community life - not only during National Handicapped Awareness Week, but throughout the year.
